

From: Katharine Weymouth [<mailto:XXX>]
Sent: Tuesday, June 30, 2009 3:22 PM
To: XXX, XXX
Subject: Invitation to Dinner - July 21

Good afternoon, XXX.

Please, could you forward the following invitation to The Hon. Jim Cooper.

Thank you very much.

Dear Representative Cooper,

I am writing to invite you to dinner at my home on Tuesday, July 21.

Washington Post Executive Editor Marcus Brauchli, health care reporter Ceci Connolly and I are hosting what we hope will be a lively, sophisticated, civil and useful conversation about health care reform with a small group of people who really know the subject.

As one of the leaders of that debate, your participation would be particularly valuable, and I hope very much that you will be able to join us.

We will begin at 6:30 p.m., and I promise we will be finished by 10:00 p.m.

Please let me know at your earliest convenience; we will send the address and directions to my Chevy Chase, DC home.

I look forward to welcoming you on July 21st.

Sincerely,

Katharine Weymouth
Publisher, The Washington Post
CEO, Washington Post Media
(202) 334-XXXX
(202) 334-XXXX/fax
e-mail: XXXX

This message may contain an advertisement from The Washington Post, 1150 15th St., N.W., Washington, DC 20071. If you do not wish to receive such e-mail from The Washington Post, please send an e-mail to optout@washpost.com.